

Stephen Constantine

Barrister

Overview

Stephen practices in all major areas of criminal law. He undertakes work exclusively for the defence and has extensive experience of dealing with serious criminal offences.

He is regularly instructed in cases involving young and vulnerable defendants including those under a disability and in cases which require a patient and sensitive approach. He prides himself on his high standard of client care.

His areas of particular experience include all types of homicide and other serious violence, large scale drugs conspiracies, multi million pound investment fraud, business/company fraud, rape and other serious sexual offences.

Notable Cases

- Murder of spouse
- Multi million pound investment fraud
- Murder of housemate – defendant unfit to stand trial
- Rape of child by step father
- Murder of child by baby-sitter
- Multi million pound drugs importation involving covert surveillance and phone tapping, involved 3 month hearing on admissibility of evidence
- Rape by ex-partner
- Murder of asylum seeker by defendant unable to speak English and with psychiatric problems
- Rape of child by sibling (also a child)
- Multiple death by dangerous driving
- Fraud of customers by company
- Conspiracy to cause criminal damage to buildings with religious significance by members of EDL
- Large scale football violence
- Keeping a brothel

Year Of Call:

1992

Practice Areas

Crime