

Peter Makepeace QC

Barrister

Overview

The Legal 500 2020

“Recommended for serious drug-related cases.”

Chambers and Partners UK Bar 2020

“He has a very good manner and is fantastic with clients.”

Peter has practised exclusively in Criminal law since 1994 and has extensive experience of defending and prosecuting in all areas of serious crime. He is on the CPS Specialist Fraud Advocate Panel. Prior to taking Silk in early 2016, Peter frequently acted as leading Junior in multi counsel cases. He continues to receive instruction as leading Counsel and Silk alone in the most serious of matters including multi defendant murders, sexual offence, fraud and large scale, complex drug conspiracies.

Areas of special experience include homicide and other serious violence, fraud, serious and large-scale drug conspiracies, sexual offences, the importation and distribution of medicines, and a growing expertise in computer-related law culminated in the first prosecution for fraud of a peer to peer, bit torrent music file sharing site.

Throughout his practice, Peter has developed a particular reputation in cases requiring sensitivity of approach either through the nature of the offence or the vulnerability of witnesses, victims or the accused. He is acknowledged to have an exhaustive approach to case preparation and manages his diary to ensure serious cases are afforded the proper case management they require.

Peter also accepts private instructions in the field of licensing and regulatory offences.
